Ram's Tale

Our '58-59 Story

Rockford, Michigan

These Sights Greet Us Every Day.

Mrs. Benham Checks on Attendance.

When we arrive at school each morning, these are the scenes that meet our eyes. Usually we don't even give them a second glance, for they have become a part of our routine; yet, when we need supplies or assistance, these places become very important.

We usually refer to our school as "just school," but when it comes right down to it, we're really proud of our school. The fine reputation it has built up in the academic field and in the fields of music and sports is something we can not overlook. When we speak of Rockford High to students from other schools, we know that Rockford is a school of which we can truly be proud.

The Bookstore Sells What We Need.

Careful Planning and Administration Help Us All

School Board: E. J. Kleinert, Jack Carlson, Ted Carlson, Lynn Gill, Kenneth Morrison, Harold Kitson.

To the custodians of Rockford High, Mr. Hall, Mr. DeCator, Mr. Elkins, and Mr. Johnson, because you are friendly, patient, and helpful, we wish to dedicate the 1959 RAM'S TALE. Because you wait for us when we're slightly late, because you contend with our noise and cheering on the way home from the games, because you clean up after us, because you're always willing to lend a hand in anything from a window that won't open to a door that's locked, because you have our interests and welfare at heart and are dedicated to keeping us comfortable and in pleasant surroundings. Jim, Max, Ardie, and Roy, for these reasons and because you are really friends of each of us — to you we dedicate this book.

Our years in high school are a unique few in the course of our lives. And here at Rockford, each year has its own events that set it apart from all others. This year — the year we had a championship football team — the year we really felt the growing pains as our enrollment increased but the building did not. Will we ever forget the spirit of enthusiasm shown by each student and faculty member, the co-operation among all the members of the Rockford High School Co-operative Association? Hardly!

Yes, we can truly say that it is "with a song in our hearts" that the 1958-59 year will remain — ever-wrapped in the warm glow of friendliness and unity that makes R.H.S. what it is.

Now let us turn the pages and re-live those moments of 58-59 and remember each person we were akin to during those now-past months.

Academics

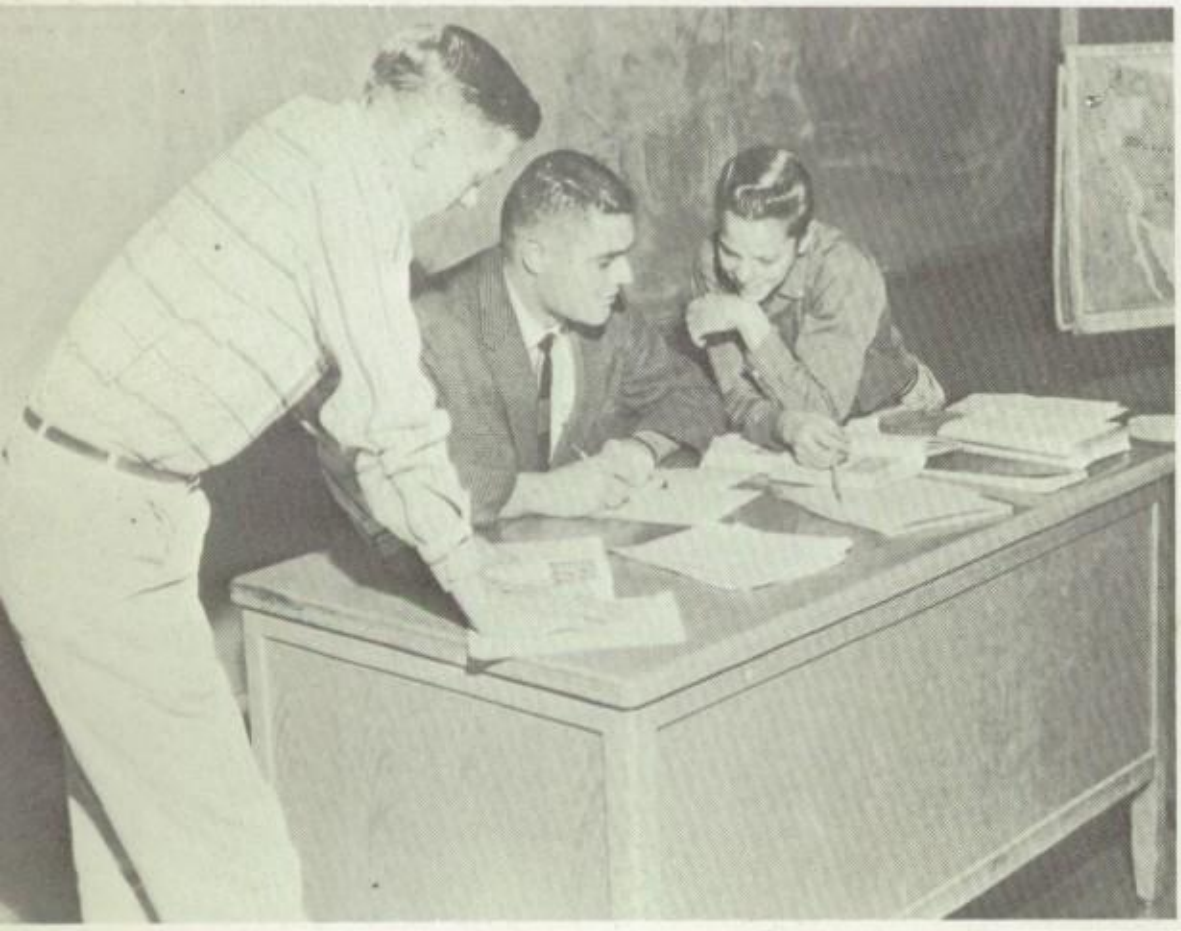
Mr. Leo Eby has been seen in this room for many years. His main ambition is to get his Junior High students interested in mathematics. He not only teaches the principle of numbers but also keeps the pupils interested with news of the day and facts that he has found to be worthwhile.

Mr. Stanley McBride is helping students in his eighth hour advanced algebra class. This is quite traditional because the course has proved to be a little difficult at times. Mr. McBride's method of teaching has taught his many students the understanding of higher mathematics.

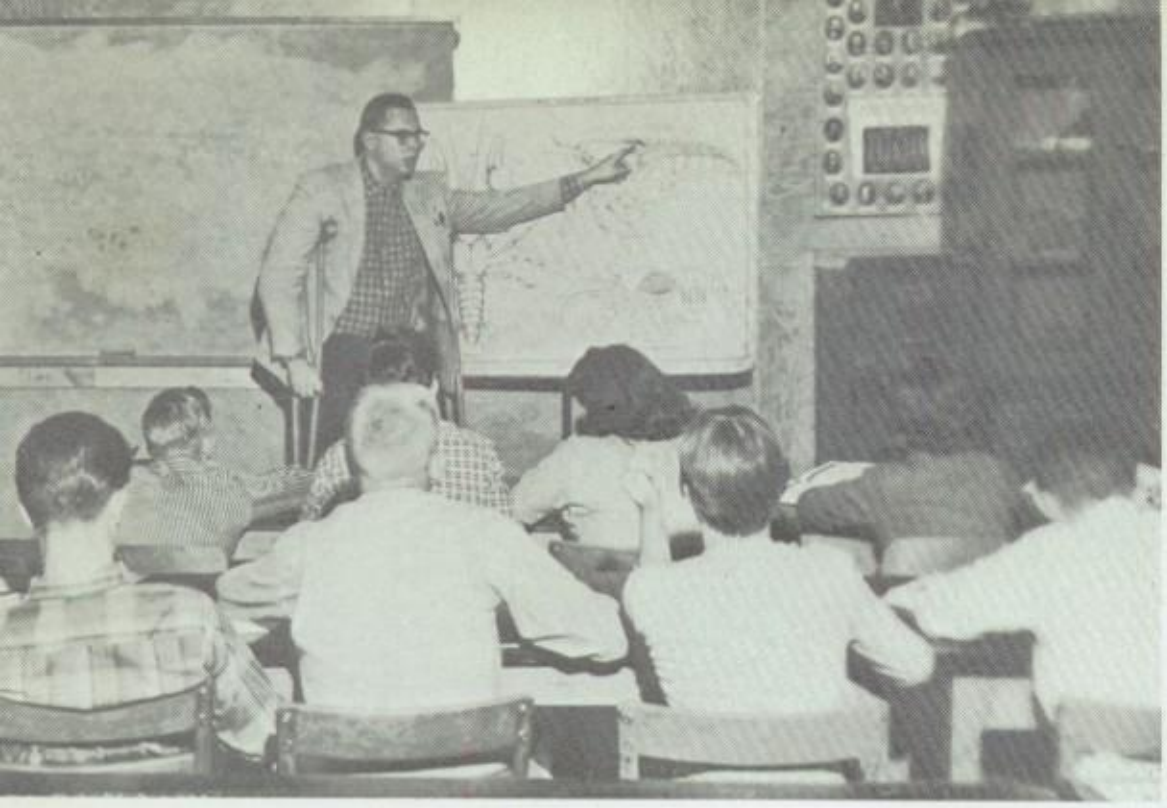


BEST OF LUCK CARL
Jim DeRyke

Mr. Jim DeRyke can be found in this room several times throughout the day. Here he is teaching his students the ideas behind mechanical drawing. They have learned haw to use the many instruments required for this course and have also learned how to put an idea down on paper.

Guidance + Interest =

Mr. Tom Baer has taught his geometry students the fundamentals of this course. His subject has been of great value to many students who have learned good judgment and sensible reasoning. Along with drawing constructions they must memorize the many theorems that are presented throughout the book.

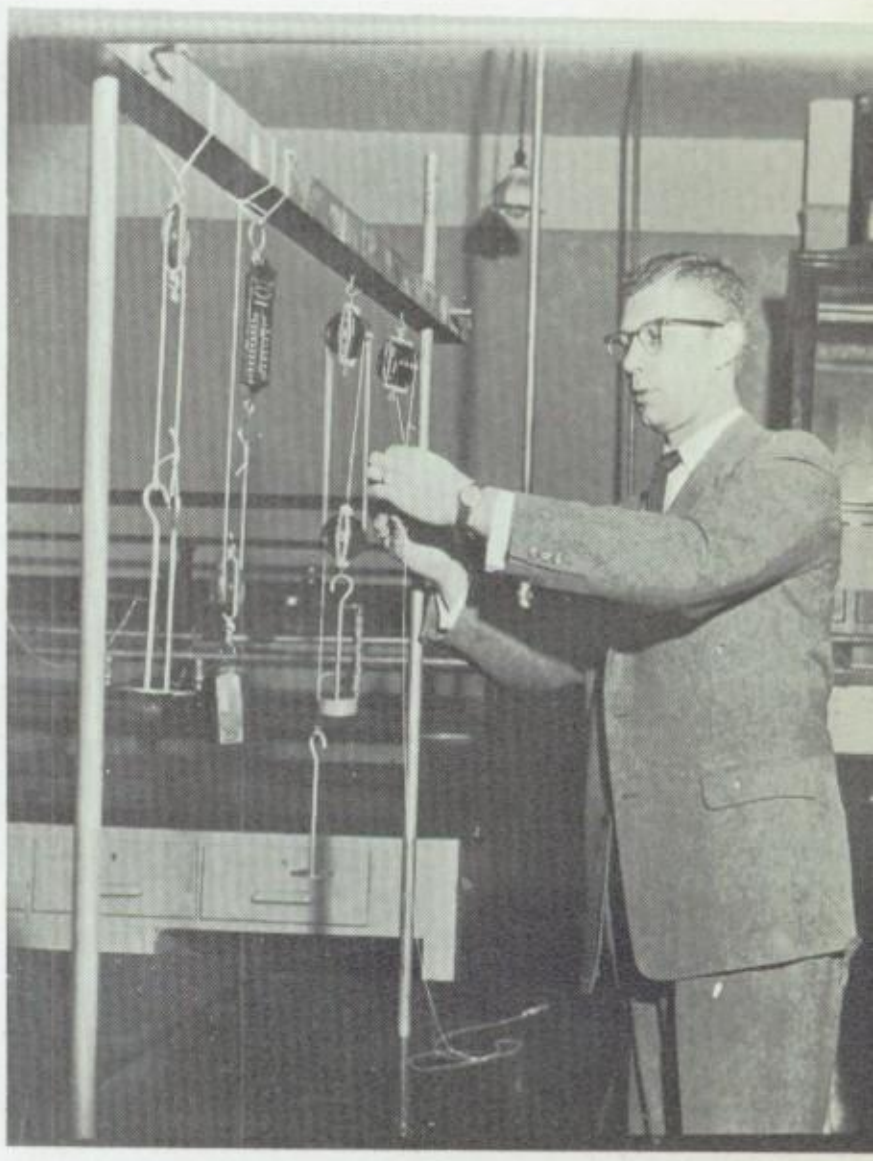


Mr. Clinton Lindhout is seen here instructing his students in physics. They learn to realize just how important science of this kind is in daily life. The class is interesting, and is taken mostly by senior students. Aside from gaining knowledge in physics, the more basic fundamentals of how to study a course of this type are learned.

C. Lindhout

Learning and Success

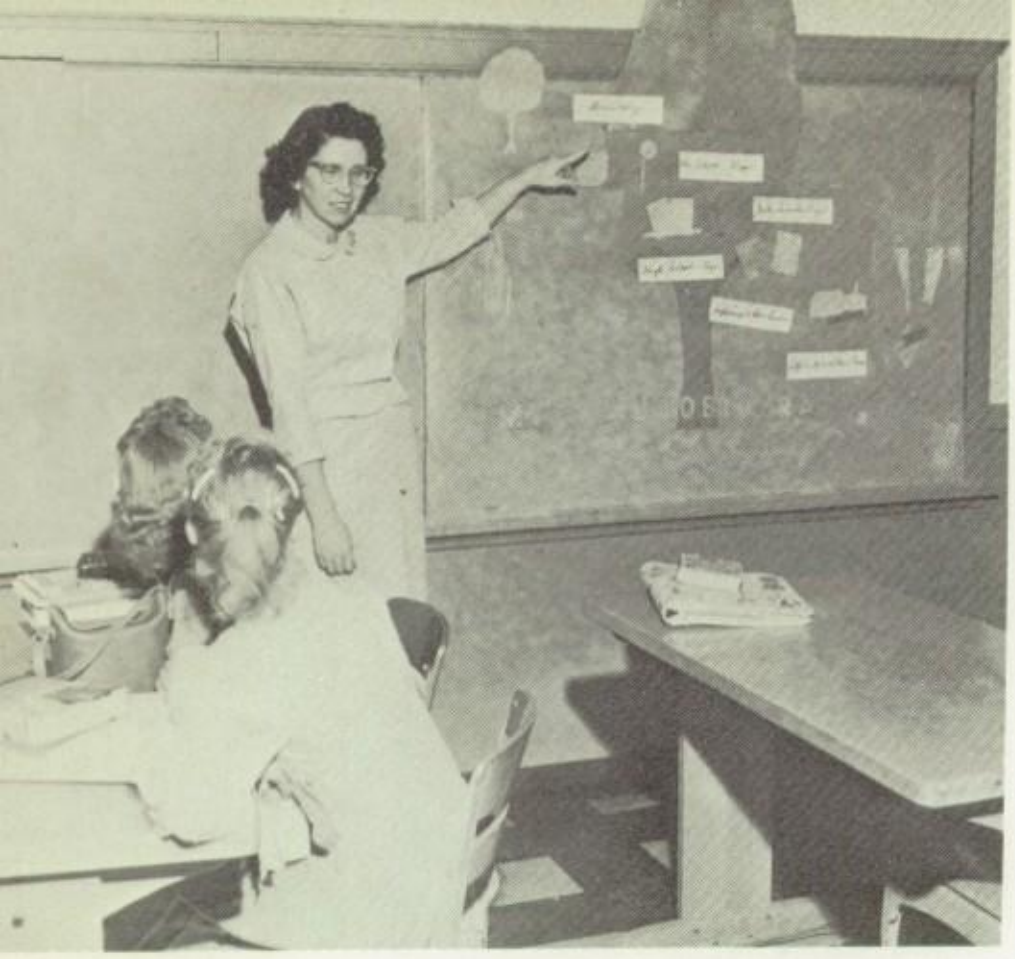
Mr. Lawrence Bayer has several biology classes. There are many things to be learned and the students have found observing the wonders of biology quite interesting. They have been taught a variety of different fields ranging from plants to the human body.



Mr. William Greig has a variety of things that he teaches his eighth grade science students. In this class they get a broad view of the science field which better prepares him for the high school sciences.

Mrs. Anna Warner has several classes of seventh grade communication skills. There are so many different things to be taught that it makes it quite interesting for her students. It is very important that they become well prepared for future years in high school.

Best Wishes,
Anna Warner



Mrs. Mary Ann Holmes has a variety of projects for her tenth grade English classes. Although there are new literature books they still contain the traditional readings, such as Julius Caesar and Silas Marner. It is also in this class that tenth graders write their autobiographies.

Miss Jean Davidson in her communication skills class. In this class the students at an early age learn the fundamentals of the English language. It is that which we learn when we are young that we will retain and continue to use when we are older.

Dortha Haight

Mrs. Dortha Haight is in her communication skills class. Here her students learn history, geography, and English. The students in this class receive a good firm foundation for their high school classes.

Mr. Donald Marvin has several speech classes. It is through this course that many students have learned how to address large groups of people. The diction and speaking habits are improved along with constant speeches which have to be given as a means of practice.

Mrs. Lila Boyer has two Spanish classes. Everyone enjoys learning about the customs of Spanish-speaking countries. Although most of the time is spent in learning verbs and their conjugations, everyone still finds it interesting. It seems to give everyone a sort of self-satisfaction to have accomplished a foreign language.

Mrs. Lucille Brown is seen here teaching Latin to a group of students. It is a very good language to take because many of our English words are derived from it and it helps us to understand their meanings. Along with the basic Latin, many historical facts are taught.

Mr. Robert Boyer listening to current events. This is a part of his American History class. Every Monday the students each give a current event. In this way they not only learn their history, but they know what the situation is in the world.

Mr. Thomas Weeda has two classes of government. The students learn about the senators, how taxes are used, and, in general, how our government is run. It is very interesting to discover how the government systems differ from state to state.

Mr. Sam Benham teaches two classes of senior government. It is very interesting to learn exactly how our governmental system is run and operated. During the course of the year each student is required to write a term paper on some phase of government.

Mr. Sam Goodman is seen here in one of his world history classes. This has been a very good class to prepare students for college and future years. They learn the customs of ancient Rome and other countries of Europe.

Mrs. Myrna Harger is kept busy with all of the library work outside the library as well as inside. Throughout the year she visits many English classes and explains the system of our library to the students. It is very helpful to be able to find any information that you may want especially when the classes are writing term papers.

Myrna V. Harger

Mrs. Lucille Young is teaching in one of her two bookkeeping classes. Along with the regular classroom studies, there are many outside projects which her students must complete. This class has prepared many students for future work in business offices.

Lucille Young

Mr. Fred Schultz is in one of his several art classes. It is here that his students learn the fundamentals of drawing. They begin with elementary paintings and eventually work up to some of the most difficult.

Mr. David Thompson came to Rockford High at the beginning of the second semester and took over Mrs. Brown's classes. He taught Latin I and tenth grade English, everything from Latin conjugations to autobiographies.

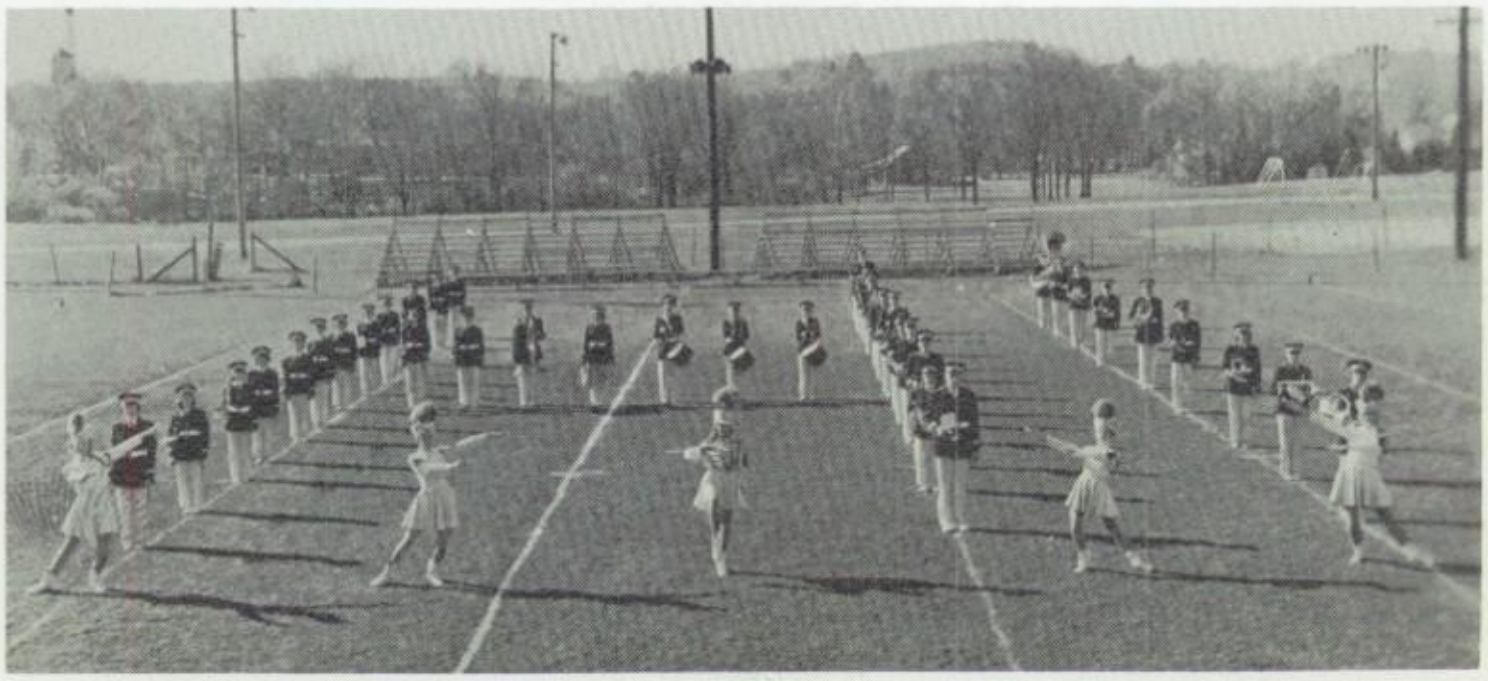
Our Band Raised Enthusiasm throughout the School.

MAJORETTES
B. Hunt, M. Foster, A. Burrows, P. Peterson.

We think our band has done a very fine job this year. Our new director, Mr. Richard Wenzel, has been an inspiration to all of us. We played for all of the home football games and marched in the Santa Claus parade. We helped to present something new this year, a combined choir and band Lenten concert. We also put on our usual spring concert.

This year the band went to two other schools and entertained the students with exchange assemblies. We participated in the district festival, as well as the Grand Valley Band Festival.

We've had a busy year and have had fun, too.



VARSITY CHOIR: Back Row: G. Doosenberry, M. Wood, J. Boss, S. Bronsink, J. Fowle, B. Vredenberg, T. DeFouw, C. Feikema, J. Finch, L. Ferrand, D. Dodgson, J. Evans, M. Mayes, J. Richards, K. Nelson.

Our choir continued to uphold its fine reputation this year. Under the expert direction of Mr. Eldon Balko, it attained new heights. The choir presented a Christmas concert, sang in the Messiah performance, and sang over the radio. It also presented a spring concert and a combined Lenten concert with the band.

We took part in the Grand Valley Choir Festival and went on our usual tour to other schools in the spring.

This year has been another outstanding one for our choir.

Miller, S. Exton, K. Craft, B. Follick, B. DeWitt, R. Vandermeer, D. Dagly, P. Hunting, J. Fox, M. Michaels, N. Francis.

Mr. Fred Bartlett is seen here with one of his agriculture classes. There are many boys who have learned a great deal about this subject through his teaching. Along with the classroom activities the pupils have many outside projects, such as, selling Christmas trees and taking care of the school forest.

Mr. Jack Erickson teaches shop to Junior High students through Senior High. Many boys have learned how to make many things from picture frames to hi-fi sets. In the seventh and eighth grades, the pupils begin making smaller articles and by the time a boy is in high school, he has learned to make coffee tables or any of the more difficult projects.

Mrs. Lena Wood can be seen throughout the day in the homemaking room. Her students have learned many helpful things which have proved to be of great importance in the home. Her students begin with sewing and cooking and also learn child care and helpful hints for the home.

Mrs. Mildred Hackett is here in her typing class. Every year she patiently teaches students how to type. It is quite a struggle for most of them to learn the keys, but Mrs. Hackett usually succeeds. Her students learn how to type letters, documents, and exercises that are going to be useful through life.

Mr. Donald Verduin is seen here selling tickets to one of our many sports events. One of his regular jobs is teaching the boys' gym classes. He sees to it that all of the fellows are kept up to physical fitness. The boys play different sports, and have an all around program of activities.

Mrs. Betty Roberts is our girls' physical education instructor. The girls all keep in trim shape by doing various exercises and playing different sports. The girls learn games and exercises that involve physical activity, and also help them keep mentally alert.

Doris Langley is seen here in Mr. Fox's office where one will usually find her. She is not only a secretary to Mr. Fox but a great assistance to all the students. Doris can help one out with almost anything. She's a great friend of every student at R.H.S.

Luck to a peppy little treasurer
Doris Langley

Mr. Fred Schultz was our official student counselor this year. We went to him with our problems and for advice about college. He also supervised the various achievement and aptitude tests.

To write a book brings satisfaction
So some authors attest,
But I wonder if they've ever tried
To make an annual the "best."

Have they had to schedule pictures,
Make sure the copy's in,
Identify a person
Beyond an unknown grin?

Have they had to check the finances,
Sell just one more ad,
Determine what goes where,
And make nobody mad?

Have they had to get the pages done
Just when a deadline's due?
Well if they have, then they'll know why
I'm glad to say, "We're through!"

HOMECOMING--Thrills, Excitement, Memories for All

October 17 was the big day, Homecoming 1958. Queen Marilyn Foster and King Tom Krause were elected to reign over the day of events which ranged from the coronation assembly and snake dance pep rally to the hard-fought Grandville football game and fun-filled after-game dance. Work and enjoyment combined to make this day one not to be soon forgotten.

The royal pair leads the procession.

Blue Moon

Our king is crowned.

Now it's official!

How lovely was half-time!

The 1958 Lion-sponsored football banquet was a call for great celebration. It had been a long fourteen years since Rockford had been a Grand Valley football championship winner.

Other Special Events in Year

This spring's Roman Banquet was an opportunity for the Latin students to drift back for an evening to the ancient splendor of old Rome. The scene was leisurely — a far cry from our present day. And oh how much more one can seem to consume while reclining and eating!

The school council sponsored a wild west carnival this spring. The "old days" were brought back for one night. Again it was proved that money for improvements can be earned and a lot of fun gained easily when a whole student-body unites.

Christmas Shows Moods around R.H.S.

Yuletide Ball

Dreaming of Moonlight and Roses and choosing the just right dress, wondering if "he" will ask me to the prom, isn't spring wonderful! The big night at Blythfield — prom-time 1959.

Dreaming, Only Dreaming

Graduation, June 4, I wonder if it will be hot; I hope it doesn't rain. How long we've all looked forward to this day. Where will I go from here, will I ever see these people with whom I've associated so long again? Yes, graduation poses many questions, and it is truly a commencement on a now broader path of life.

We the students of Rockford High wish to express the deep gratitude and glowing admiration to the spirited and victorious athletes who, through their love of good clean competitive participation, and deep loyalty to their school, have succeeded in bringing victory and recognition once again to the pages of Rockford's football history.

Also we acknowledge with sincere admiration the marvelous coaching staff, who through their superior knowledge and patience, have guided these young athletes to an ever-so-important step of manhood.

Again, we thank the players, the coaching staff, and everyone connected with the management of these three football teams, the student body, faculty and the community, who through their spirit and loyalty provided the necessary fuel to ignite the flame of victory, thus glorifying their school and making its supporters better individuals.

WRESTLING

A new sport was added to our athletic program this year, namely wrestling. Wrestling is an ideal sport for physical conditioning. Because of its rigorous nature, it not only provides a fine, mental tonic for the development of an aggressive attitude, but it is unequalled as a means of acquiring co-ordination, poise, and effective use of the body. After a man has learned how to pin his opponent's shoulders to the mat, the winning spirit invades the mind, and he realizes that he can take care of himself in any sort of physical encounter.

The Ram matmen had an over-all record of three wins and four losses. They beat Lowell twice and Belding once while losing to East twice and to Grandville twice.

The victory over Belding was the climax of the season, for the match was put on for the whole school.

Tennis is a very fast game, and to become a good tennis player, it takes long, hard hours of practice. For those who participate in this sport, it develops co-ordination, speed, stamina, agility, reflexes and judgment. This is a fascinating game to watch and keeps the spectator as well as the participant on his toes at all times. Nearly all can enjoy this sport either by participation or watching.

Participation in track and field holds a strong fascination for those who have been introduced to the sport. Once a young man experiences the thrill of sailing over the cross-bar or competing in a close race, or sees himself improve a foot in the shot put, he will learn to love the sport.

Competitive ability, which is one of the most noble and admirable qualities possessed or developed by man, is one of the essential ingredients for success in track.

Track teaches one to have a greater respect for one's own body, what it is able to do, and what habits are necessary to keep it fit and at its best.

Large Interest Shown for Baseball

The baseball field is a great teacher whose lessons go beyond the skill of the game. Its lessons are also those of humility, sincerity, and individual respect. Its lessons are not soon forgotten, for they are those of experience.

The game of baseball teaches a young man to receive victory graciously and to accept defeat as a temporary setback. This is good, for in life we all shall ride the crest of victory, be it great or small, and in turn we shall taste the bitterness of defeat.

We're sincerely grateful to and proud of our athletes and fine coaches who have kept Rockford's tradition of fine baseball and spirit of enthusiasm that have helped make this sport the great one it is today!

The Junior Class presented its play "The Babbling Brooks" on April 2 and 3 with two separate casts. Betty Brooks, a vivacious teenager, is the editor of a neighborhood newspaper. When Betty hears two young women talking of their latest murder mystery script, she is convinced they murder for thrills and immediately writes all about it in her next paper. This gets her into a very confusing situation and soon everyone is a part of the exciting plot.

Seniors Sell Concessions

Look out, Washington!

For four years we had been getting ready for our senior trip to Washington, D.C. The money raising projects had begun early. We had built floats, had bar-b-q suppers, sponsored paper drives, held after-game dances, flipped pancakes, and had various kinds of sales. Yes, we worked hard, but the smiling faces of home-coming seniors proved that our efforts were worthwhile.

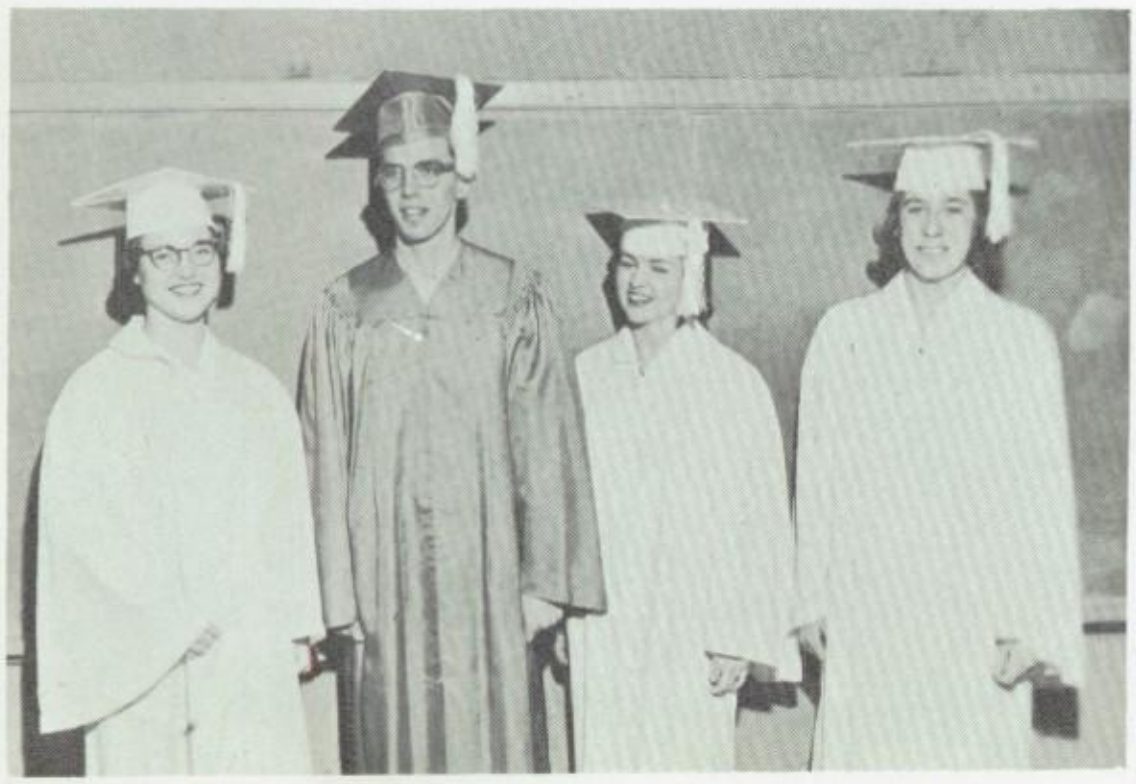
We would like to take this space to thank you, Mr. McBride, our advisor, for all the help you have given us throughout our high school years. You were always there whenever we did anything, advising and encouraging us. Your never failing sense of humor and your wisdom have helped us so much. Thank you for your faith in us. You have been a real inspiration to all of us.

The Class of '59 could hardly have come so far without the capable leadership of Mrs. Hackett, our assistant advisor. She never fails to participate in the Class activities and functions. Mrs. Hackett, the Class would like to express its appreciation to you for your years of guidance and assistance.



Officers of Class of '59: Treasurer, J. Lichnovsky; President, L. Blayden; Vice-President, V. Nelson; Secretary, P. Porter.
